

EXCERPTS (II)
from “Jade and the Blessed Mysteries of Life”
François Garagnon

« One person is a little like a landscape. If you really love him, you shouldn't expect him to be always at his best.

« You say, “I'll do it later”. But what does “later” mean ? You really want me to tell you ? Later means never !

« If you want to do it and you don't, what good is it to be able to do it ? You're no better off than the guy who can't do it ! You're even worse off, because it's not the fault of the guy who can't do it, but you, you're wasting your talent.

« What's important is to savour the taste of life. When you think about it, you realize what a wonderful gift it is. Really fantastic !!

« The more you do for free, the richer you get.

« Feelings that you don't give are lost feelings !

« It would be great to be a billionaire in feelings !!

« You don't only pray with words, but also by spreading love all around, everyday, like when you light up a dark room. So you have to be illuminated within to light up without. »
